This is an online platform for Black educators dedicated to sharing resources, materials, employment opportunities, and evidence-based practices specifically tailored for Black Educators and Black students.

ACE is looking for Black educators who are willing to share curriculum, lesson plans, and other relevant information with other Black educators who are looking to better support their students of color.

Educators who participate will be compensated based on the information they provide.

This compensation is our way of acknowledging and honoring the time and effort you invest in making this platform a rich and diverse resource for all educators.
